GIST President Kiseon Kim hosts meeting with Gwangju business owners

- GIST President Kiseon Kim held a meeting on May 2, 2019, in his presidential office with student in the 9th GIST Techno Management Business Academy (GT MBA).
 - About 10 local business owners, including Jung-soon Park, CEO of Dongyang Metal Co., Ltd., attended the "Meeting with the GIST President" to discuss ways and roles in which the community and GIST could develop together.
- GIST President Kiseon Kim, Vice-President Jong-In Song, and Dean of International and Public Affairs Sung-Gyoo Park exchanged various opinions with students from the 9th GT MBA class on ways for the members of GIST to communicate more actively with Korean businesses while promising to actively cooperate for mutual development.
- GIST President Kiseon Kim said, "With suggestion to create an industry-academic cooperation program, such as the 'GT MBA Alumni Exchange Program' to strengthen relationships between professor and GT MBA-related companies, I hope that this will create an opportunity for business representatives in our region to form close industrial and academic cooperation with professors and serve as life mentors to students."

- Chairperson of the 9th GTMBA Jung-soon Park, CEO of Dongyang Metal Co., Ltd., said, "We will actively cooperate to build an ecosystem that will create an environment where talented students from GIST can settle in Gwangju and the South Jeolla Province without having to leave to other areas after graduation so that they can develop their own research fields."
- GTMBA has established and operated a top technology management course since 2011 to serve as a hub for businesses through a systematic CEO education program. The ninth class began in March of this year and will meet every Tuesday night at 7 p.m. through November at GIST Oryong Hall.
