GIST (Gwangju Institute of Science and Technology, President Kiseon Kim) faculty members donated 120 million won to the school development fund for the construction of the school welfare center.

GIST announced that on the afternoon of September 13 (Tuesday), 10 GIST faculty and staff donors, including Vice President for Academic Affairs Raekil Park and GIST Research Institute Director Chang-Duk Jun, were in attendance at the 5th floor of the administrative building in the Administrative Building, and held a donation ceremony for the Development Fund.

As the representative donor, GIST Research Institute Director Chang-Duk Jun (Professor of Life Sciences) said, "With a pure heart for the development of GIST, this donation will be used to promote the construction of a welfare center as a space where all GIST members and local residents such as professors, staff, and students can coexist."

Vice President for Academic Affairs Raekil Park said, "This donation to the Development Fund is even more meaningful as it contains the hearts of members to create a GIST of harmony and trust to be one step closer to the local community. We would like to express our gratitude to the faculty and staff for the development of the school, and the donated funds will serve as a solid foundation for GIST to leap forward."
